

X & Y roughly follow
the same distributions

The distribution of Y has
a larger location (mean/median)

The distribution of Y has a larger scale (SD, F-spread etc)

The distributions of X and Y
are different

